

Finally, we collect results from all the above algorithms and suggest an attack from West direction of Germany attacking in a small region on 35 selected nodes to damame almost 40 percent of the network.